

Today's Jobs and Tomorrow's Opportunities in the Inland Empire Region

Even in this challenging economy, there are current top job openings available for those with training and skills. The following table lists occupations identified by the California Employment Development Department (EDD) as examples of today's top jobs in the Inland Empire region. These occupations were selected based on a combination of current job openings listed on EDD's CalJOBSSM system, future job openings, and good annual earnings. Top occupations are separated into three categories based on required training and education - some require only a short training period, while others require two to four years of college.

² Projections of employment are based on historical employment and economic indicators. These numbers reflect the sum of new jobs and replacements, when employees permanently leave their occupations or the labor force all together.

³ EDD/LMID Occupational Employment Statistics; Wages reflect the Riverside-San Bernardino-Ontario Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA); 2008. Median is the point at which half of the workers earn more and half earn less.

More high-growth and high-wage opportunities are coming up in the Inland Empire region. Some of these occupations require only a short training period, while others require two to four years of college. For more information about these occupations, such as job requirements, go to the EDD's Career Information section at www.labormarketinfo.edd.ca.gov.
